SESSION DESCRIPTION:

In this session, we provide a global forum for extensive study in computational intelligence, optimization, network analysis, and machine/deep learning. Authors are requested to submit novel ideas as good-quality conference papers. Computational intelligence and optimization techniques are classical disciplines that have been studied for more than three decades. Recently, machine learning and artificial intelligence-based methods have also been applied in optimization as metric learning and domain adaptation. Some bio-inspired techniques have been used in the network, signal, and image mining domains. Some research challenges persist in a complex network and high-dimensional data and images. Many algorithms have been presented for evaluating novel methods in this domain. AI/ML, Blockchain optimization is applied in minimal computing requirement-based systems to cope with industrial requirements.

RECOMMENDED TOPICS:

Topics to be discussed in this special session include (but are not limited to) the following:

- Social network analysis
- Link Prediction
- Community detection
- Influence maximization
- Computer vision and image processing
- Nature-inspired computation
- Mathematical modeling and optimization
- Machine/ Deep learning and its Application
- AI/ML in natural language processing
- AI/ML in disaster management
- AI/ML in healthcare
- Distributed system
